Abstract—The abstract of your article should be here.

1. YOUR SECTION HEADING SHOULD BE HERE.

The heading of all the sections and subsections should have every word begin with the capital letters.

This space is for the contents. The section should be labeled by using \label{ section label}. To refer this section, use \ref{section label}.

2. FORMULATIONS AND EQUATIONS

For equations,

$$\nabla \times \overline{E}(\overline{r}, t) = -\frac{\partial \overline{B}(\overline{r}, t)}{\partial t} \tag{1}$$

For convenience, authors are allowed to use the newcommand to define a short name for the operators, but please define the newcommand at the beginning this main file only.

For multiline equations, authors can use "eqnarray"

$$\nabla \times \overline{H}(\overline{r}, t) = \frac{\partial \overline{D}(\overline{r}, t)}{\partial t} + \overline{J}(\overline{r}, t)$$
$$\nabla \cdot \overline{B}(\overline{r}, t) = 0 \tag{2}$$

The equation is referred as (2).

3. FIGURES AND TABLES

3.1. Figures

For best publishing quality, we recommend the EPS format for figures. Fig. 1 shows how to insert an encapsulated postscript figure.

3.2. Tables

Table 1 shows how to display a table.

Table 1. A Sample Table.
